

NAVY OFFICER WILL PRESENT "A" AWARD TO COUNTY FIRM

Judge W. C. Sheely will be master of ceremonies; Captain C. E. Leavitt, executive officer of the Mechanicsburg Naval depot, will represent the U. S. Navy and Barr V. Washburn, deputy regional director of the Northeast Region, Office of Distribution of the War Foods Administration, New York city, will represent the WPA at the presentation of the "A" award for excellent achievement in producing foods during the last year to the Knouse corporation, it was announced today.

Captain Leavitt will present the "A" flag at the ceremony to be held at the Arendtsville Vocational school auditorium next Tuesday at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

M. E. Knouse, president of the Knouse corporation, will deliver the acceptance speech. Mr. Washburn will give the pin citations to a representative group of employees whose names will be announced later. While the WPA administrator is giving the pin citations to the selected men and women, the remainder of the 800 employees of the Knouse corporation plants at Peach Glen and Chambersburg will open the pin awards distributed to them as they enter the auditorium.

Plant's 27th Year
With the presentation of the "A" award to the Knouse corporation plant at Peach-Glen, the company will be bringing to an end its twenty-seventh year of development as one of the foremost processing plants in this area.

Started in 1917 by the United Grocery company, a chain of producing and distributing agencies, the plant in 1921 passed into the hands of W. S. Adams, who in turn sold it to the Knouse corporation in 1925.

In 1925 when Knouse took over the establishment, the plant had 40 employees and its capacity production was 200 cases per day. Since that time the plant has been expanded almost yearly as the company grew. In 1936 the Lum Packing company of Chambersburg sold its plant there to the Knouse corporation and it was continued in operation by Knouse.

Employ 800 Workers
So great has been the expansion of the plants that today the daily production capacity is 3,400 cases of apples in No. 10 cans, 2,400 cases of apple butter, 10,000-gallons of vinegar stock, seven tons of dried apple pumice, 5,000 cases of applesauce (Please Turn to Page 2)

Former Schoolman Executive Officer

Lt. (jg) Herbert E. Bryan, on leave as principal of the Arendtsville Vocational school, has been named as executive officer of the Naval Preparatory Pre-Flight school at Philadelphia. It was announced today.

Lieutenant Bryan was installed at a colorful regimental review February 8, of the aviation cadets at the preparatory school. At the review Lt. Richard H. Lieutenant Bryan has served as head of the recognition department at the pre-flight school, supply officer and ground school officer. He has been stationed at the naval flight school located at the University of Pennsylvania for the last 11 months.

Here And There News Collected At Random

Under the recent War department order Pennsylvania will lose more college training detachments than any other state in the Union. The north loses more than five times as many as the territory south of the mythical Mason-Dixon line and nearly twice as many are retained in the south as in the north.

Gettysburg college and the Gettysburg School of Aeronautics are among those affected by the order of discontinuance.

Under the Army Air Forces training program, established not quite a year ago, 153 colleges and universities and aeronautical schools were designated to conduct the training program in 39 states.

Under that arrangement 16 were assigned to Pennsylvania, 13 to Ohio, 11 to Tennessee, 10 to Wisconsin and so on down to one each in Mississippi, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Louisiana, Colorado, South Dakota, Idaho, Oregon, Arizona and Nevada. All other states had two or more.

Under the War department order of January 29 70 are to be eliminated by June 1 and 83 are to be retained. Of the 70 eliminated, 59 are located in the north and 11 in the south. Of the 83 retained 33 are in the north and 50 in the south. Pennsylvania loses 14 of its 16. The University of Pittsburgh and Waynesburg college, both in the western part of the state are retained.

Tennessee loses two of its 11. Wisconsin loses eight of its 10. Ohio loses six of its 13. None are discontinued in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, Louisiana, Texas and Arizona, all located in the south.

Those retained in the north include: Two in Pennsylvania, four in Illinois, two in Indiana, one in Michigan, one in Minnesota, seven in Ohio, two in Wisconsin, one in Colorado, four in Iowa, two in Nebraska, one in Idaho, two in Montana, one in Oregon, two in Washington, one in Utah. Total, 33.

Those retained in the south include: Three in West Virginia, four in Alabama, one in Florida, two in Georgia, one in Mississippi, four in North Carolina, six in South Carolina, nine in Tennessee, two in Kentucky, one in Louisiana, five in Oklahoma, five in Texas, one in Kansas, five in Missouri, one in Arizona. COUNTY BOOSTS WAR BOND SALES TO $2,418,000

Washington, Feb. 16 (AP)—The $14,000,000,000 Fourth War Loan drive is over the top by at least $191,000,000.

Although the drive ended at midnight last night, all purchases by individuals reported to Federal Reserve banks during the remainder of the month will be counted toward the final total to be announced on March 2.

Individual purchases yesterday still were more than $1,800,000, 600 short of their $5,500,000,000 quota.

Adams county keeps whittling at its quota of war bonds to be sold to individuals and at the same skyrockets its over-all "over-the-top" sales in the Fourth War Bond campaign to keep this county at the top of the heap in the state with a percentage of 118 per cent of its quota.

Sales of all types of bonds total $2,418,000 or $370,400 more than the county quota of $2,047,600, Edmund W. Thomas, County War Finance committee chairman, revealed today.

Of this grand total $790,800 represent sales of bonds to individuals and $326,200 represents sales of "E" bonds. The later figure is $168,367 short of the quota of $494,567.

County Leads State

However, in the quota of all other types of bonds to be sold to individuals Adams county is "over-the-top" by $34,604. Sales in this bracket total $464,600. The quota was $429,996.

At the present time Adams county is leading the state in oversubscribing its quota, but it trails in the drive to reach the quota of "E" bond sales. Should the county reach its "E" bond quota it stands a chance of leading the nation in percentage of sales of its quota.

Mr. Thomas issued an urgent appeal today to all volunteer workers and issuing agents to stress and emphasize the sale of "E" bonds in order that the county may attain its quota.

"I want to particularly appeal to those people who have inherited some money or have accumulated some savings which can be used to purchase 'E' bonds," Mr. Thomas said. "It is from these sources that we must now depend to attain our (Please Turn to Page 2)

Allies Take Green Islands; Solomons' Drive Nears End

By ASAHEL BUSH
Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Feb. 16 (AP)—Adm. William F. Halsey's South Pacific forces in a bold surprise move seized the Green Islands at the northern tip of the Solomons Monday, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today, closing a starve-or-surrender trap on 22,000 Japanese troops to the south.

American and New Zealand troops, under cover of air and naval surface strength which included cruisers, landed in an 8 p. m. twilight and met only light machine-gun resistance.

"For all strategic military purposes, this completes the campaign for the Solomon Islands," MacArthur said in a communique.

The estimated 22,000 Japanese trapped on Choiseul, Shortland, Bougainville and Buka Islands to the south "are now isolated from their sources of supply at Rabaul (New Britain)," he said.

"Starvation and disease are certain to ensue from the military block which renders their position hopeless. With their airfields destroyed and their barge traffic paralyzed, relief of the scattered garrisons is no longer practicable and their ultimate fate is sealed."

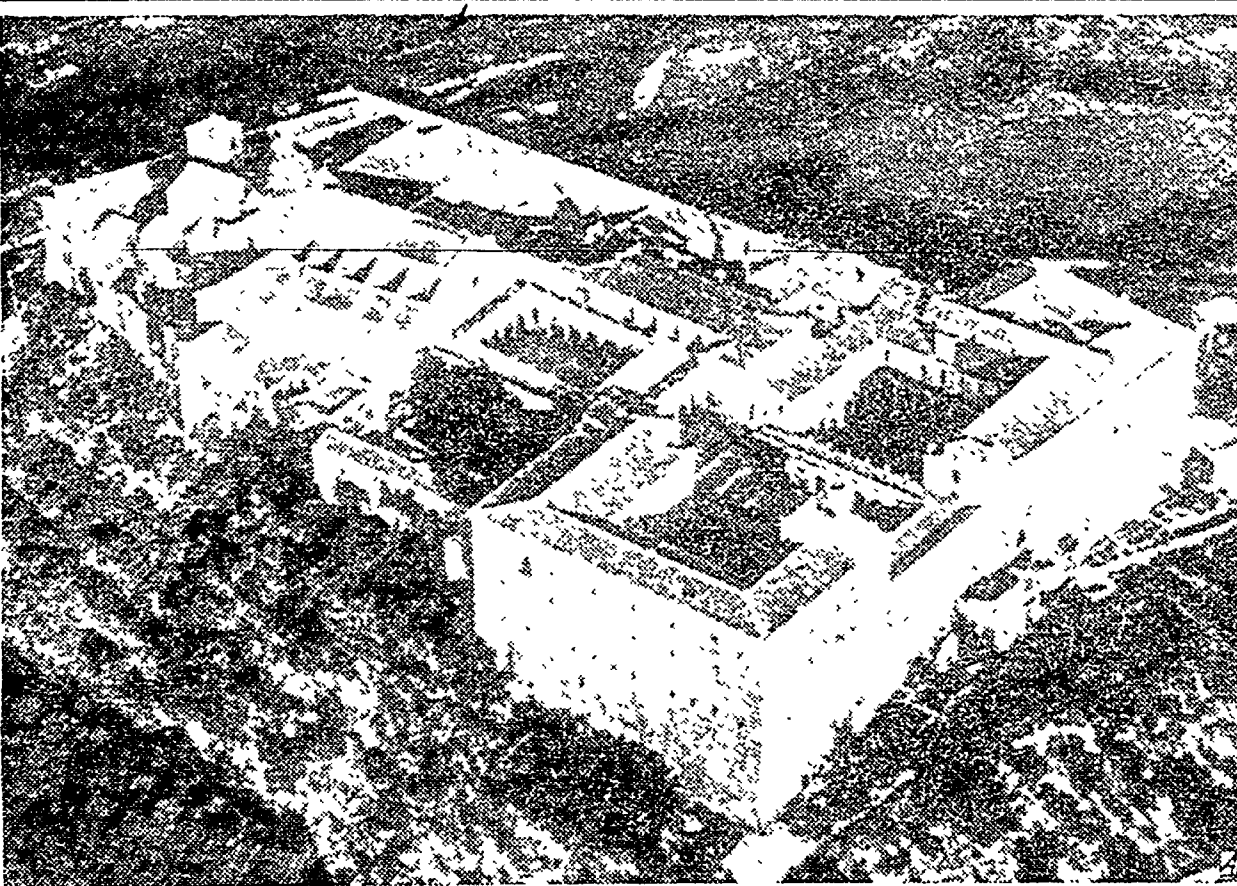

The Green Islands, also known as the Nissan Islands, are 40 miles northwest of Buka Island and about 120 miles east of the Japanese base at Rabaul, where the enemy has been taking repeated and heavy Allied aerial poundings. They also are only 230 miles southeast of another Japanese base at Kavieng, New Ireland.

Territory seized by the Americans and New Zealanders is composed of a group of five coral islands forming a horseshoe-shaped atoll 16 by 14 miles. There is an interior lagoon and a low coral perimeter. Highest point on the atoll is 200 feet, and there are a number of flat places suitable for airfields.

MRS. E. LEWARS CITES R. C. WORK TO CLUB WOMEN

The tremendously increased work of the Red Cross during the present war was outlined Tuesday evening by Mrs. E. S. Lewars, chairman of the county chapter at a meeting of the Littlestown Women's Community Club held in the Odd Fellows hall.

Mrs. Lewars thanked the Littlestown group for its "excellent cooperation" in the past and urged the club to continue its activities especially during the time of such great need by the Red Cross.

Last year the Littlestown committee raised $2,405 for the Red Cross during its War Fund drive. This year, Mrs. Lewars said, the increased quota for the county would raise the amount that would be needed from Littlestown on a pro rata share to $3,000. That figure is not a quota, she assured the Littlestown women, but is a possible goal for the section. The Rev. Kenneth James is chairman for the Red Cross War Fund drive in Littlestown with the Women's Community club as one of the assisting organizations.

Home Activities

Home service activities of the county Red Cross have increased 237 per cent during the last year, the Red Cross chairman said, with the amount of work probably increasing to twice that amount in the near future. The home service work includes such activities as checking for military authorities the reported illnesses or deaths in soldiers' families preparatory to giving a soldier an emergency furlough; assisting the families or wives of servicemen financially or in other manners until dependency pay begins; checking on the whereabouts of soldiers for families and checking for soldiers the condition of their families, on request; securing information about injured soldiers and their welfare for the families and the like.

Other work done by the Red Cross in the county including the production of thousands of bandages for the armed forces, securing furniture, games and the like for soldier hospitals and camps, and helping soldiers and their families in the county were outlined.

The Rev. Nevin Smith, Hanover, was another speaker at the program at which Miss Rose Barker presided.

It was erroneously reported Tuesday that both masses would be held Friday morning.

Ancient Monastery Is Blown Apart Like A Pack Of Cards

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Feb. 16 (AP)—Allied headquarters announced today that photographic reconnaissance had revealed that the Mt. Cassino monastery, which had been converted by the Germans into a fortress, was destroyed yesterday when subjected to a heavy bombing attack by American heavy and medium bombers.

The pictures showed direct hits were scored on the buildings and the roads leading to them and on the ground adjacent to the erstwhile German stronghold overlooking besieged Cassino on the main Fifth Army front.

The American air force disclosed that four waves of Flying Fortresses hammered the monastery with "many tons" of high explosives and incendiaries. The last waves of bombers dropped the incendiaries and crewmen said the entire abbey hall was blazing furiously when they left.

Squadron Commander Maj. Bradford Evans of 1875 Webster street, Palo Alto, California, said the "top of the mountain looked like a volcano."

Deer, Crippled By Car, Found By Hunter

Struck Sunday evening by an automobile on the Hanover road about two miles east of here, a 100-pound buck deer with both its hind legs broken was found Tuesday by Russell Deaner, Gettysburg, a mile from the scene of the collision with the car. Deaner found the crippled animal along a wire fence which it could not cross because of its injuries.

Deaner reported his find to Game Protector Leo Bushman who had been seeking the animal following the accident Sunday. Drifting snow prevented tracking. The deer was destroyed and the venison was turned over today to the Hoffman orphanage.

HARD FIGHTING RAGES THROUGH CITY OF CASSINO

By REILMAN MORIN
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Feb. 16 (AP)—American siege guns have opened a concentrated bombardment of Monastery Hill and "breaches" have been opened in that main sector of the German line overlooking Cassino, it was announced today, but in the invasion beachhead to the west headquarters acknowledged loss of Carroceto, 10 miles north of Anzio.

Warships again battered the Germans ringing the beachhead and RAF Wellingtons flung down black busters in a night attack.

U. S. Artillery opened up on Monastery Hill following the aerial destruction of historic Mt. Cassino Abbey, which the Germans had converted into a fortress.

Nazis On Key Hill

German infantry presumably was still in possession of the key hill, above besieged Cassino, where violent battling swept into its 15th day.

The fighting increased in intensity as American soldiers who already hold one-third of the town, continued the methodical destruction of house after house which the Nazis have converted into miniature fortresses.

The lull in ground fighting in the beachhead continued, the communique reporting only patrol clashes in the Cisterna and Carroceto (Aprilia) areas.

Headquarters said Carroceto was in German hands. Fierce fighting has swirled in this neighborhood, with a canning factory there changing hands four times. Allied forces had pushed four miles north of Carroceto to the outskirts of Campoleone, 16 miles below Rome, but German counterattacks forced them back.

Pound Rome Rails

While Allied heavy bombers gave direct support to infantry on both the beach and main Fifth Army front, A-36 Invaders struck a sharp series of blows at railroad yards in the suburbs of Rome, plastering the Trastevere and Tiburtina freight yards through which German supplies and reinforcements were moving southward. (The Paris radio said the Rome area was attacked again today and that Castel Gandolfo was hit yesterday.)

The Germans launched their first attack in several weeks against Eighth Army positions, sending infantry and light tanks against Indian troops. The assault, described as on a "small scale" was beaten back.

In the town of Cassino, doughboys were forcing their way through blistering machine-gun fire from steel-reinforced concrete pillboxes in the dwellings. These strongpoints, protected by armor plate three to four inches thick, each are held by two men, aiming machineguns with periscopes without exposing themselves.

Monastery Ruined

Photographic reconnaissance showed that the Benedictine Monastery was destroyed yesterday in the attack by U. S. heavy and medium bombers, and artillery fire. Only a small portion of the west wall was left.

Clearing weather brought virtually every type of Allied aircraft into action, and Liberators also struck at the Poggibonsi railyards 20 miles south of Florence. Nine enemy planes were downed, including four over the beachhead, while the Allies lost one.

One formation of Invaders caught a string of nearly 200 freight cars in the Tiburtina yards on the outskirts of Rome, hitting them with 500-pound bombs. Another slashed at an equally large concentration at the Trastevere station on the banks of the River.

All the A-36 Invaders returned safely. It was their first raid against the Rome area.

William A. Chritzman, Chambersburg street, has received word of the safe arrival in England of his son, Pfc. Alexis W. Chritzman. Edward Richardson, Iron Springs, has received word his son, Pvt. William C. Richardson, has also arrived safely in England.

Worst Bombing Of War Lashes Badly Bruised Reich Capital

By W. W. HERCHER
London, Feb. 16 (AP)—The RAF smashed Berlin last night with the greatest load of bombs ever dropped on a single target—well over 2,800 tons which cascaded down in a smothering 20-minute attack by 800 to 900 heavy bombers.

Forty-five aircraft are missing from the night's operations, which included other forays.

The RAF waited two weeks to deal this crushing blow against the expiring capital of the German Reich. Not since Jan. 30, when Berlin was hit by a force approaching 800 planes, had it made a major attack.

Smoke Soars 4 Miles
It is believed that the armada sent over Germany last night comprised the greatest number of planes ever to fill the Reich's skies in one night, including 1,000 heavy bombers and more than 200 lighter craft. Berlin received the contents of 800 to 900 bomb bays.

Billows of flame swept through the city when the assault was finished. Crews of reconnoitering Mosquitoes reported a very large field of fire, with smoke pluming four miles into the air.
Just before Berlin was hit a smaller force of Lancasters made a feint attack on Frankfurt-on-Oder, 50 miles east of Berlin, and Mosquitoes bombed targets in western Germany and Holland. Mines also were laid in enemy waters.

Previous Raids
The heaviest previous raid on Berlin was on the night of last Jan. 26 when more than 2,578 tons (2,300 British long tons) were dropped within an hour. The RAF's heaviest previous raid on a single target was its attack on Hannover about 2,800 tons (2,500 long tons) last Sept. 22.

A communique declared that the bombers "took the offensive against Germany in very great strength, flying in all operations over 1,000 sorties."

"The main objective was Berlin where well over 2,500 tons of high explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped, a heavier load than in any previous attack on any objective in air warfare."

Last night's raid on Berlin followed another furious daylight assault upon targets in northern France yesterday by hundreds of Allied planes, including large formations of American Liberators, Thunderbolt fighter-bombers, and medium bombers.

Lambast Coast
The total Allied losses in these sweeping operations were two medium bombers and four fighters, a communique said last night.

The main target of the daylight raiders was again the French invasion coast, where secret German installations in the Pas-de-Calais area were subjected to the fourth searing bombardment in five days.

Neither the Liberators, which were escorted by RAF and RAAF Spitfires, nor the Thunderbolts encountered any enemy air opposition, the Allied communique said.

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that Thunderbolt fighters, since going into action recently in this theater, have shot down 657 Nazi planes against losses of 186.

SEVEN TONS OF PAPER HAULED

The Gettysburg firemen's February salvage drive netted seven tons of waste paper—three tons less than the quota set—it was announced today.

The firemen collected the paper, 150 pounds of rags, 2,500 pounds of tin cans and a small amount of metal Tuesday afternoon and evening throughout the town. The amount of paper was two tons less than collected in the January drive despite the fact that a special request was made this month due to the current county wide drive for waste paper.

Of the tin cans collected 1,740 pounds were picked up at the Lincoln school where the students have been gathering the cans during the past month. The tin can collections at other schools will be picked up during the next several days by the firemen.

Scrap Collection In Cashtown Saturday

Members of the Cashtown Community fire company will collect paper and other salvage material Saturday, February 19. Daniel S. Mickley is chairman of the drive committee.

At a meeting Tuesday evening the company elected the following officers: President, Wilmer Diehl; vice president, Bruce Wetzel; secretary, Clarence Deardorff, and treasurer, George Carbaugh.

Adams county keeps whittling at its quota of war bonds to be sold to individuals and at the same sky-rockets its over-all "over-the-top" sales in the Fourth War Bond campaign to keep this county at the top of the heap in the state with a percentage of 118 per cent of its quota.

Sales of all types of bonds total $2,418,000 or $370,400 more than the county quota of $2,047,600. Edmund W. Thomas, County War Finance committee chairman, revealed today.

Of this grand total $790,800 represent sales of bonds to individuals and $326,200 represents sales of "E" bonds. The later figure is $168,387 short of the quota of $494,567.

County Leads State

However, in the quota of all other types of bonds to be sold to individuals Adams county is "over-the-top" by $34,604. Sales in this bracket total $464,600. The quota was $429,996.

At the present time Adams county is leading the state in oversubscribing its quota, but it trails in the drive to reach the quota of "E" bond sales. Should the county reach its "E" bond quota it stands a chance of leading the nation in percentage of sales of its quota.

Mr. Thomas issued an urgent appeal today to all volunteer workers and issuing agents to stress and emphasize the sale of "E" bonds in order that the county may attain its quota.

"I want to particularly appeal to those people who have inherited some money or have accumulated some savings which can be used to purchase 'E' bonds," Mr. Thomas said. "It is from these sources that we must now depend to attain our (Please Turn to Page 2)

Allies Take Green Islands; Solomons' Drive Nears End

By ASAHEL BUSH
Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Feb. 16 (AP)—Adm. William F. Halsey's South Pacific forces in a bold surprise move seized the Green Islands at the northern tip of the Solomons Monday, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today, closing a starve-or-surrender trap on 22,000 Japanese troops to the south.

American and New Zealand troops, under cover of air and naval surface strength which included cruisers, landed in an 8 p. m. twilight and met only light machine-gun resistance.

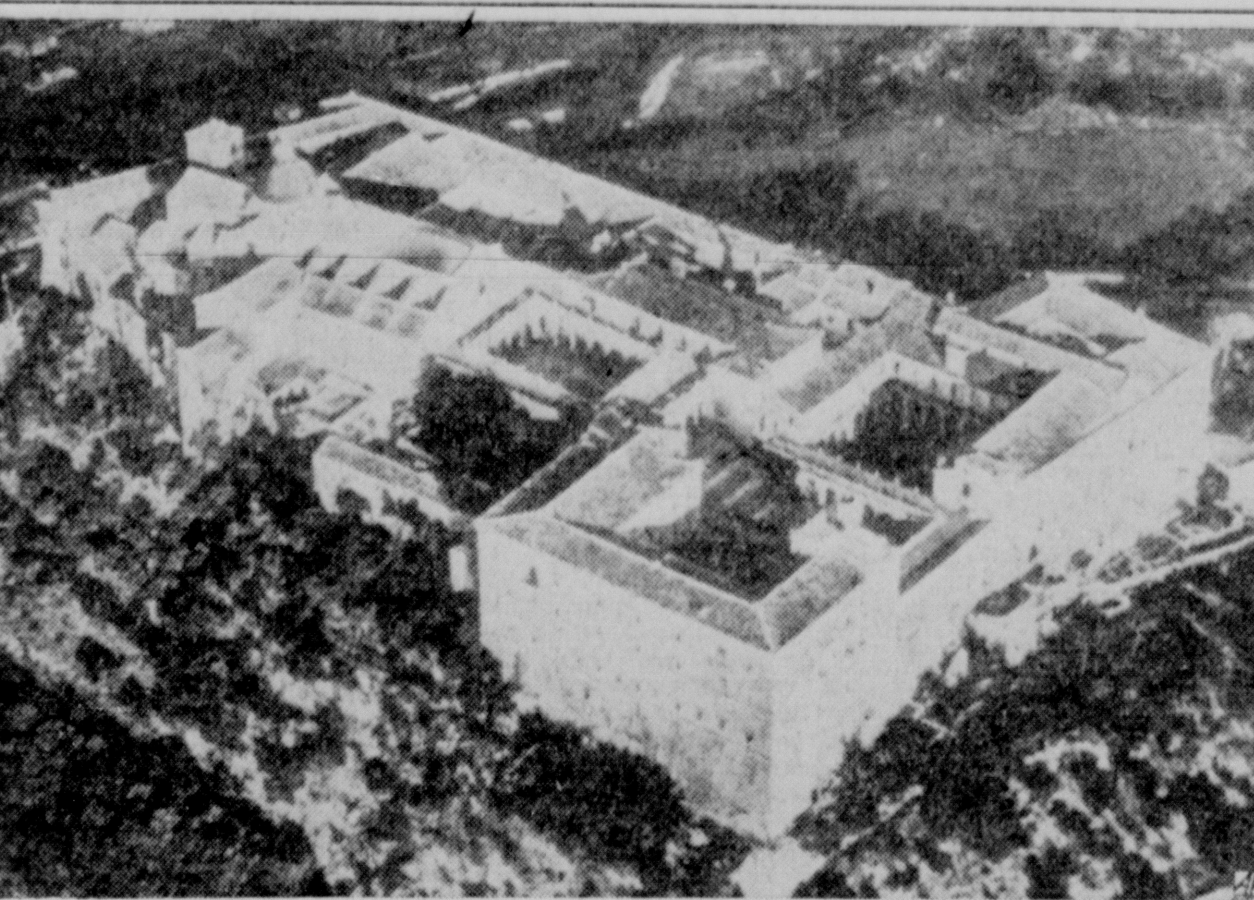

"For all strategic military purposes, this completes the campaign for the Solomon Islands," MacArthur said in a communique.

The estimated 22,000 Japanese trapped on Choiseul, Shortland, Bougainville and Buka Islands to the south "are now isolated from their sources of supply at Rabaul (New Britain)," he said.

MRS. E. LEWARS CITES R. C. WORK TO CLUB WOMEN

The tremendously increased work of the Red Cross during the present war was outlined Tuesday evening by Mrs. E. S. Lewars, chairman of the Mt. Cassino monastery, which had been converted by the Germans into a fortress, was destroyed yesterday when subjected to a heavy bombing attack by American heavy and medium bombers.

The pictures showed direct hits were scored on the buildings and the roads leading to them and on the ground adjacent to the erstwhile German stronghold overlooking besieged Cassino on the main Fifth Army front.

The American air force disclosed that four waves of Flying Fortresses hammered the monastery with "many tons" of high explosives and incendiaries. The last waves of bombers dropped the incendiaries and crewmen said the entire abbey hall was blazing furiously when they left.

Squadron Commander Maj. Bradford Evans of 1875 Webster street, Palo Alto, California, said the "top of the mountain looked like a volcano."

HARD FIGHTING RAGES THROUGH CITY OF CASSINO

By RELMAN MORIN

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Feb. 16 (AP)—American siege guns have opened a concentrated bombardment of Monastery Hill and "breaches" have been opened in that main sector of the German line overlooking Cassino, it was announced today, but in the invasion beachhead to the west headquarters acknowledged loss of Carroceto, 10 miles north of Anzio.

Warships again battered the Germans ringing the beachhead and RAF Wellingtons flung down bomb busters in a night attack.

U. S. Artillery opened up on Monastery Hill following the aerial destruction of historic Mt. Cassino Abbey, which the Germans had converted into a fortress.

Nazis On Key Hill

German infantry presumably was still in possession of the key hill, above besieged Cassino, where violent battling swept into its 15th day.

The fighting increased in intensity as American soldiers who already hold one-third of the town, continued the methodical destruction of house after house which the Nazis have converted into miniature fortresses.

The lull in ground fighting in the beachhead continued, the communique reporting only patrol clashes in the Cisterna and Carroceto (Aprilia) areas.

Headquarters said Carroceto was in German hands. Fierce fighting has swirled in this neighborhood, with a canning factory there changing hands four times. Allied forces had pushed four miles north of Carroceto to the outskirts of Campoleone, 16 miles below Rome, but German counterattacks forced them back.

Pound Rome Rails

While Allied heavy bombers gave direct support to infantry on both the beach and main Fifth Army front, A-36 Invaders struck a sharp series of blows at railroad yards in the suburbs of Rome, plastering the Trastevere and Tiburtina freight yards through which German supplies and reinforcements were moving southward. (The Paris radio said the Rome area was attacked again today and that Castel Gandolfo was hit yesterday.)

The Germans launched their first attack in several weeks against Eighth Army positions, sending infantry and light tanks against Indian troops. The assault, described as on a "small scale" was beaten back.

In the town of Cassino, doughboys were forcing their way through blistering machine-gun fire from steel-reinforced concrete pillboxes in the dwellings. These strongpoints, protected by armor plate three to four inches thick, each are held by two men, aiming machineguns with periscopes without exposing themselves.

Monastery Ruined

Photographic reconnaissance showed that the Benedictine Monastery was destroyed yesterday in the attack by U. S. heavy and medium bombers, and artillery fire. Only a small portion of the west wall was left.

Clearing weather brought virtually every type of Allied aircraft into action, and Liberators also struck at the Poggibonsi rail yards 20 miles south of Florence. Nine enemy planes were downed, including four over the beachhead, while the Allies lost one.

One formation of Invaders caught a string of nearly 200 freight cars in the Tiburtina yards on the outskirts of Rome, hitting them with 500-pound bombs. Another slashed at an equally large concentration at the Trastevere station on the banks of the River.

All the A-36 Invaders returned safely. It was their first raid against the Rome area.

UNDERGROUND IS 'SECRET WEAPON' IN INVASION PLAN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Field Marshal Karl von Rundstedt, commander of German forces in western Europe and one of the outstanding soldiers of our time, manages to convey the impression of a great faith in Germany's destiny in his quiet statement that he is prepared for the coming Allied invasion and awaits it calmly.

There was no general Hitlerian shouting as the marshal told simply how the Nazi anti-invasion defenses include large-scale ground mining, arrangements for flooding big areas, and "anti-tank obstacles and walls far more diversified than in the Masinot line." The German reserves, he said, are so grouped that they can launch quick counter-attacks.

Maybe Von Rundstedt is bluffing when he says there will be "no withdrawal in my field of operations." However, I see no reason to doubt his sincerity. He hasn't named any defensive measures which are at all unlikely, for even the wide-spread flooding was used extensively in western Europe in the last war.

Marshal Means Business
The marshal means business. We should be asking for trouble if we didn't recognize this and realize that the invasion easily may produce a conflict which will far exceed in violence anything this or any other war has seen.

However, Von Rundstedt seems to have stretched a vital point when he said that Hitler's Atlantic wall can't be outflanked by invasion.

It's outflanked already—before the invasion has started. It's outflanked by the vast underground army of Frenchmen and other nationalities of the occupied zone who are all set and waiting for the invasion day.

Allied "Secret Weapon"
That's the Allied "secret weapon," and it may prove to be the most destructive in our armory. The units of this army will be everywhere—behind the Germans, in their midst, on their flanks.

In France alone the underground army runs into many millions, who are organized and are kept in touch with the Fighting French leaders in Algiers by liaison men. These brave folk carry on ordinary occupations in the daytime, and perform their patriotic tasks under cloak of night. They plan and train for the future; they carry out sabotage against the enemy. It's dangerous work—a fact which Hitlerite firing-squads proclaim grimly each dawn.

May Turn The Scales
Then there's another force in France, better organized and more formidable than anything of the sort the Nazis have encountered. This is separate from the civilian underground army and is composed of former officers and men of the disbanded French Army—once one of the world's most powerful fighting machines.

These trained soldiers don't engage in the ordinary sabotage, but are being kept under cover for the invasion day. One of their big jobs will be to seize and hold strategic points for the invading forces—an invaluable service which may turn the scales.

No Cause For Reproach
No reproach attaches to the United States Fifth Army for the distressing necessity of bombing and shelling the Germans out of the ancient Benedictine monastery atop Mount Cassino. The Hitlerites were holding up the Allied offensive, and were taking American lives, by utilizing the building for military purposes. We held our fire as long as possible, and then had no alternative but to shoot.

That's an old Prussian trick. Europe is strewn with churches and cathedrals which through two wars the Germans either wantonly destroyed or brought to ruin by utilizing them as military posts. In view of this, one wonders what may happen to the priceless relics of Rome if we lay siege to the capital.

Certainly if it suits Hitler's evil purposes this anti-Christ won't hesitate to use the churches as shelter for his troops. That would present the Allies with a tough problem.

OLD CLOTHES SOUGHT IN H. S.

The local effort, which will be conducted for the Save the Children Federation, is known as Bundle Day.

The Crusade in 1943 yielded one million pounds of clothing, which was sent to the Southern Highlands, the Missouri Ozarks, the Brazos Valley of Texas, the Salt River Valley of Arizona, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Great Britain and Greece.

NEW RECORD

Philadelphia, Feb. 16 (AP)—There's a new individual scoring record for basketballers of the Philadelphia Public High League to shoot at today. Ed Lerner of Southern high, with one game still to go, has reached a total of 181 points in 10 games. The old mark, 173, was set by Len Weiner of John Bartram last year.

It is estimated that accidents cost employers about $35 per worker a year.

APPROPRIATIONS BILL, REPORTS GO TO HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 16 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee sent to the floor today legislation appropriating $231,304,700 for the State, Commerce and Justice departments for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The total was allocated in this manner: State department, $44,234,500; Justice, $116,477,200; Commerce, $70,593,000. The aggregate was $5,987,700 below budget estimates.

The legislation was accompanied by almost 1,000 pages of printed testimony from high-ranking officials charged with the task of directing a far-flung foreign service and at the same time coping with war-born problems at home.

Report Highlights

From Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who told the committee at one point that it was "too late in life for me" to join "the Bureaucrats," came a warning that the war is not "all over but the shouting;" from Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones came a statement that much of the $2,700,000,000 invested by the government in airplane and engine plants will have to be written off as a dead loss, and from J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, the admonition that juvenile delinquency is "sweeping the country."

Outlined in the foreign service section were reports that Americans still held by the Japanese in Asia are suffering from severe malnutrition.

Hull told the committee that winning of a military victory was but one phase in the program of "bringing about peace and future world stability."

Defines War's Goal

"A durable, just and stable world order" was Hull's definition of the final goal of the war.

"A sound commercial policy—I mean by that an international program of mutually beneficial cooperation and a sound commercial policy—is one of the cornerstones of any stable political peace structure," he said.

"We should not strive to get one-sided agreements at the expense of the other country. Such a policy will react disastrously on a nation following it and in the end everybody will suffer. . . . We want to make our policy fair, mutually desirable, and mutually profitable, so that we can fit in effectively with a suitable plan in regard to stabilization of phases of the monetary situation, the exchange situation, and the credit situation. . . . The truth, I believe, is that after the war, if we are to furnish employment to people who should have it and who are entitled to it, if we and other important parts of the world are to go forward, we must increase production, distribution and consumption."

and 15 tons of dried, dehydrated apples.

Peak employment last year was 800, with 350 of the persons employed at Chambersburg and the remainder at Peach Glenn. Even during the period when the plants are not in full operation a full time crew of 75 is needed to carry on the company business and care for the plants.

The Peach Glen plant originally consisted of a 54 by 80 foot wooden building. Ten new buildings have been added since, with two of the buildings now in construction dwarfing the original plant.

New Construction

One of the buildings will be a three-story structure of concrete and steel enclosed by brick and glass block. Its base is 100 by 200 feet. The other building, to be made of brick, will be 1½ stories high and is 100 by 188 feet. Work on the new buildings was started September 1 and they will be completed, the company hopes, by June 1.

The company's floor space has increased from 6,440 square feet in 1925 to 222,025 square feet. The new plants will be used at first for storage and later machinery will be installed for production.

First Storage Plant

The company was the first apple canning plant in this section to put up a cold storage building, with the first four-story cold storage structure erected in 1933. As a result, the company could keep apples almost indefinitely and increase the production period by several months. Before that the apples were piled outside the plant and used as quickly as possible.

The first addition to the Peach Glen plant was made in 1927 when a warehouse was built at the far end of the plant. In 1928 a one-story storage building was added; in 1929 another building was added and another building was erected with the construction of an addition to the 1928 structure in 1930.

The apple butter room was added that year. In 1933 the first cold storage plant, a 100 by 200 foot building two stories high was added. In 1934 the four story cold storage plant was built. In 1936 the Chambersburg plant was purchased and in 1938 the number of tanks for vinegar production was doubled. In 1942 the dehydration plant was built at Chambersburg and in 1943 several additional structures were added.

Products Shipped Widely

"There are many plans for future expansion of the plant," M. E. Knoke, its president, said today, "but we are not ready as yet for public announcement of those plans."

Maximum production was reached in 1942 when the plants produced 1,600,000 gallons of vinegar; 461,000 cases of No. 10 apples, 284,000 cases of apple butter, 460,000 cases of apple sauce. Last year the company fell slightly below those figures because of the scarcity of apples.

Products of the plant are now sent to every theatre of war with all of the production of canned apples at the plants turned over to the Army and Navy for their use.

Praise Employees

The expansion of the Peach Glen plant is most graphically told by M. E. Knoke, seated in his office at Peach Glen and looking across to the new structures being put up. "Those buildings are standing in what was a swamp when I came here in 1925," he told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times. "A small stream flowed just outside this office, where your car is parked now. The stream has been put underground and the swamp drained. One could hardly imagine the difference between now and 1925."

Mr. Knoke paid highest tribute for the success of the plant to the employees, "many of whom have worked here since 1925. In some families around here it is almost a tradition to work at the Knoke plant, with the mothers originally working here and as the daughters get old enough they come along to work also." Mrs. Knoke has had charge of the women since 1925 and also paid high tribute to their skill and ability.

"We have as good a group of workers here as can be found anywhere," she declared.

Negro Electrocuted For Girl's Murder

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 16 (AP)—John Swan, lanky 27-year-old New Brunswick negro, was electrocuted last night in New Jersey State prison for the slaying of Marion Oliver, 29-year-old white girl, in the women's room of the opera house, a New Brunswick motion picture theater.

Looking straight ahead as he walked from the death house cell block into the execution chamber at 8 p. m., the six foot, four inch Swan showed no signs of emotion then or when strapped to the electric chair by Executioner Joseph Francel of Cairo, N. Y., and prison guards.

Eight minutes later the prison physician told Principal Keeper John L. O'Hara "this man is dead." Francel had sent four shocks of varying degrees coursing through Swan's body.

Body Of Junk Dealer Found

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—Rubin Mages, 50-year-old Harrisburg junk dealer, was found dead on a highway two miles north of nearby Progress last night with a bullet wound in his neck and Coroner Earl G. Grim said today "it looks like a case of murder."

Passing motorists found Mages' body, Grim said, and it was first believed he had been killed in an accident. An autopsy hours later disclosed the bullet wound near the base of the ear. The coroner said it could not have been self-inflicted.

State police said no weapon had been found nor had it been determined whether Mages was shot where the body was found or was carried there after he died. The authorities said they also were investigating Mages' movements earlier in the day.

DISTRICT SCOUT

Each patrol should be able to fulfill certain requirements before the troops are considered ready for camping, it was decided. The requirements include: Ability to perform artificial respiration and knowledge of pressure points; demonstration of how to sharpen a knife and ax; making a tent peg, displaying an article made by the scout to be used in cooking; ability to light a fire with the proper kinds of wood and to kindle a fire with flint and steel; prepare a camp menu for eight persons for three days; prepare and cook a meal including meat and two vegetables, a dessert and a drink without using canned meats or vegetables; earn enough money for a week in camp; demonstrate methods of pitching a tent and prepare a bed roll; present a record of troop, home, church and school service; approval by the committee on knowledge of safety rules as observed in his conduct in the troop, at home, and on the street during the month prior to camping.

The possibility of holding a district camp at Camp Conewago, near New Oxford, was discussed with the camp probably to be held between July 9 and July 23, the regular camping period there. Under the program discussed Tuesday the scouts will camp on a patrol basis, do their own cooking, sleep in tents and develop their own program.

A progressive camping program with various types of camping for scouts with different degrees of skill was outlined. Five different types of camping, including Standard, Bucksin, Daniel Boone, Wilderness and Victory were listed. Each type is progressively more difficult and can be done only by more advanced scouts, it was explained.

UNDERGROUND IS 'SECRET WEAPON' IN INVASION PLAN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Field Marshal Karl von Rundstedt, commander of German forces in western Europe and one of the outstanding soldiers of our time, manages to convey the impression of a great faith in Germany's destiny in his quiet statement that he is prepared for the coming Allied invasion and awaits it calmly.

There was no guttural Hitlerian shouting as the marshal told simply how the Nazi anti-invasion defenses include large-scale ground mining, arrangements for flooding big areas, and "anti-tank obstacles and walls far more diversified than in the Maginot line." The German reserves, he said, are so grouped that they can launch quick counter-attacks.

Maybe Von Rundstedt is bluffing when he says there will be "no withdrawal in my field of operations." However, I see no reason to doubt his sincerity. He hasn't named any defensive measures which are at all unlikely, for even the wide-spread flooding was used extensively in western Europe in the last war.

Marshal Means Business
The marshal means business. We should be asking for trouble if we didn't recognize this and realize that the invasion easily may produce a conflict which will far exceed in violence anything this or any other war has seen.

However, Von Rundstedt seems to have stretched a vital point when he said that Hitler's Atlantic wall can't be outflanked by invasion.

It's outflanked already—before the invasion has started. It's outflanked by the vast underground army of Frenchmen and other nationalities of the occupied zone who are all set and waiting for the invasion day.

Allied "Secret Weapon"
That's the Allied "secret weapon," and it may prove to be the most destructive in our armory. The units of this army will be everywhere—behind the Germans, in their midst, on their flanks.

In France alone the underground army runs into many millions, who are organized and are kept in touch with the Fighting French leaders in Algiers by liaison men. These brave folk carry on ordinary occupations in the daytime, and perform their patriotic tasks under cloak of night. They plan and train for the future; they carry out sabotage against the enemy. It's dangerous work—a fact which Hitlerite firing-squads proclaim grimly each dawn.

May Turn The Scales
Then there's another force in France, better organized and more formidable than anything of the sort the Nazis have encountered. This is separate from the civilian underground army and is composed of former officers and men of the disbanded French Army—once one of the world's most powerful fighting machines.

These trained soldiers don't engage in the ordinary sabotage, but are being kept under cover, for the invasion day. One of their big jobs will be to seize and hold strategic points for the invading forces—an invaluable service which may turn the scales.

No Cause For Reproach
No reproach attaches to the United States Fifth Army for the distressing necessity of bombing and shelling the Germans out of the ancient Benedictine monastery atop Mount Cassino. The Hitlerites were holding up the Allied offensive, and were taking American lives, by utilizing the building for military purposes. We held our fire as long as possible, and then had no alternative but to shoot.

That's an old Prussian trick. Europe is strewn with churches and cathedrals which through two wars the Germans either wantonly destroyed or brought to ruin by utilizing them as military posts. In view of this, one wonders what may happen to the priceless relics of Rome if we lay siege to the capital.

Certainly if it suits Hitler's evil purposes, this anti-Christ won't hesitate to use the churches as shelter for his troops. That would present the Allies with a tough problem.

quota. We will sell many $25 bonds between now and March 1, the drive officially ending at midnight, February 28th, but they will not be in sufficient quantities to reach our goal. We should have larger purchases of 'E' bonds from individuals.

Explains Limitation
The Treasury Department has again explained that the limit of $5,000 per person for 'E' bond purchases applies to individuals. That is a family of three, such as a man and wife and one child may each purchase or have purchased in their name $5,000 worth of bonds, or $15,000 worth. In other words $5,000 worth of bonds may be purchased by or for each member of the family.

"I repeat this explanation because there has been some misunderstanding among some of the $5,000 limit applied to the entire family."

OLD CLOTHES SOUGHT IN H. S.

The third National Children's Crusade will be held in the Gettysburg high school on February 24, according to an announcement today by Supt. of Schools L. C. Keefe. The Crusade has as its objective the collection of clean, wearable used clothing and shoes to aid American underprivileged children in isolated mountain and rural areas, and needy children in war-torn countries overseas. The local effort, which will be conducted for the Save the Children Federation, is known as Bundle Day.

The Crusade in 1943 yielded one million pounds of clothing, which was sent to the Southern Highlands, the Missouri Ozarks, the Brazos Valley of Texas, the Salt River Valley of Arizona, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Great Britain and Greece.

The campaign, according to the leaflets being distributed to the pupils, will be held under the sponsorship of the public schools.

NEW RECORD

Philadelphia, Feb. 16 (AP)—There's a new individual scoring record for basketballers of the Philadelphia Public High League to shoot at today. Ed Lerner of Southern high, with one game still to go, has reached a total of 181 points in 10 games. The old mark, 173, was set by Len Weiner of John Bartram last year.

It is estimated that accidents cost employers about $35 per worker a year.

APPROPRIATIONS BILL, REPORTS GO TO HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 16 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee sent to the floor today legislation appropriating $231,304,700 for the State, Commerce and Justice departments for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The total was allocated in this manner: State department, $44,234,500; Justice, $116,477,200; Commerce, $70,593,000. The aggregate was $5,987,700 below budget estimates.

The legislation was accompanied by almost 1,000 pages of printed testimony from high-ranking officials charged with the task of directing a far-flung foreign service and at the same time coping with war-born problems at home.

Report Highlights

From Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who told the committee at one point that it was "too late in life for me" to join "the Bureaucrats," came a warning that the war is not "all over but the shouting;" from Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones came a statement that much of the $2,700,000,000 invested by the government in airplane and engine plants will have to be written off as a dead loss, and from J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, the admonition that juvenile delinquency is "sweeping the country."

Outlined in the foreign service section were reports that Americans still held by the Japanese in Asia are suffering from severe malnutrition.

Hull told the committee that winning of a military victory was but one phase in the program of "bringing about peace and future world stability."

Defines War's Goal

"A durable, just and stable world order" was Hull's definition of the final goal of the war.

"A sound commercial policy—I mean by that an international program of mutually beneficial cooperation and a sound commercial policy—is one of the cornerstones of any stable political peace structure," he said.

"We should not strive to get one-sided agreements at the expense of the other country. Such a policy will react disastrously on a nation following it and in the end every body will suffer. . . . We want to make our policy fair, mutually desirable, and mutually profitable, so that we can fit in effectively with a suitable plan in regard to stabilization of phases of the monetary situation, the exchange situation, and the credit situation. . . . the truth, I believe, is that after the war, if we are to furnish employment to people who should have it and who are entitled to it, if we and other important parts of the world are to go forward, we must increase production, distribution and consumption."

These figures do not include casualties suffered by the RAF or the Royal Navy, Churchill said.

"I had to sentence him (Ciano) to death since I, exactly as a Japanese warrior put honor above everything else. I am sure the Japanese nation will understand my conduct," Mussolini was quoted as saying.

NAVY OFFICER

and 15 tons of dried, dehydrated apples.

Peak employment last year was 800, with 350 of the persons employed at Chambersburg and the remainder at Peach Glenn. Even during the period when the plants are not in full operation a full time crew of 75 is needed to carry on the company business and care for the plants.

The Peach Glen plant originally consisted of a 54 by 80 foot wooden building. Ten new buildings have been added since, with two of the buildings now in construction dwarfing the original plant.

New Construction

One of the buildings will be a three-story structure of concrete and steel enclosed by brick and glass block. Its base is 100 by 200 feet. The other building, to be made of brick, will be 1½ stories high and is 100 by 188 feet. Work on the new buildings was started September 1 and they will be completed, the company hopes, by June 1.

The company's floor space has increased from 6,440 square feet in 1925 to 222,025 square feet. The new plants will be used at first for storage and later machinery will be installed for production.

First Storage Plant

The company was the first apple canning plant in this section to put up a cold storage building, with the first four-story cold storage structure erected in 1933. As a result, the company could keep apples almost indefinitely and increase the production period by several months. Before that the apples were piled outside the plant and used as quickly as possible.

The first addition to the Peach Glen plant was made in 1927 when a warehouse was built at the far end of the plant. In 1928 a one-story storage building was added; in 1929 another building was added and another building was erected with the construction of an addition to the 1928 structure in 1930.

The apple butter room was added that year. In 1933 the first cold storage plant, a 100 by 200 foot building two stories high was added. In 1934 the four-story cold storage plant was built. In 1936 the Chambersburg plant was purchased and in 1938 the number of tanks for vinegar production was doubled. In 1942 the dehydration plant was built at Chambersburg and in 1943 several additional structures were added.

Products Shipped Widely

"There are many plans for future expansion of the plant," M. E. Knoke, its president, said today, "but we are not ready as yet for public announcement of those plans."

Maximum production was reached in 1942 when the plants produced 1,600,000 gallons of vinegar; 461,000 cases of No. 10 apples, 284,000 cases of apple butter, 460,000 cases of apple sauce. Last year the company fell slightly below those figures because of the scarcity of apples.

Products of the plant are now sent to every theatre of war with all of the production of canned apples at the plants turned over to the Army and Navy for their use.

Praise Employees

The expansion of the Peach Glen plant is most graphically told by M. E. Knoke, seated in his office at Peach Glen and looking across to the new structures being put up.

"Those buildings are standing in what was a swamp when I came here in 1925," he told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times. "A small stream flowed just outside this office, where your car is parked now. The stream has been put underground and the swamp drained. One could hardly imagine the difference between now and 1925."

Mr. Knoke paid highest tribute for the success of the plant to the employees, "many of whom have worked here since 1925. In some families around here it is almost a tradition to work at the Knoke plant, with the mothers originally working here and as the daughters get old enough they come along to work also." Mrs. Knoke has had charge of the women since 1925 and also paid high tribute to their skill and ability.

"We have as good a group of workers here as can be found anywhere," she declared.

Negro Electrocuted For Girl's Murder

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 16 (AP)—John Swan, lanky 27-year-old New Brunswick negro, was electrocuted last night in New Jersey State prison for the slaying of Marion Oliver, 20-year-old white girl, in the women's room of the opera house, a New Brunswick motion picture theater.

Looking straight ahead as he walked from the death house cell block into the execution chamber at 8 p. m., the six foot, four inch Swan showed no signs of emotion then or when strapped to the electric chair by Executioner Joseph France of Cairo, N. Y., and prison guards.

Eight minutes later the prison physician told Principal Keeper John L. O'Hara "this man is dead." France had sent four shocks of varying degrees coursing through Swan's body.

Body Of Junk Dealer Found

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—Rubin Mages, 50-year-old Harrisburg junk dealer, was found dead on a highway two miles north of nearby Progress last night with a bullet wound in his neck and Coroner Earl G. Grim said today "it looks like a case of murder."

Passing motorists found Mages' body, Grim said, and it was first believed he had been killed in an accident. An autopsy hours later disclosed the bullet wound near the base of the ear. The coroner said it could not have been self-inflicted.

State police said no weapon had been found nor had it been determined whether Mages was shot where the body was found or was carried there after he died. The authorities said they also were investigating Mages' movements earlier in the day.

of each patrol should be able to fulfill certain requirements before the troops are considered ready for camping, it was decided. The requirements include: Ability to perform artificial respiration and knowledge of pressure points; demonstration of how to sharpen a knife and ax; making a tent peg, displaying an article made by the scout to be used in cooking; ability to light a fire with the proper kinds of wood and to kindle a fire with flint and steel; prepare a camp menu for eight persons for three days; prepare and cook a meal including meat and two vegetables, a dessert and a drink without using canned meats or vegetables; earn enough money for a week in camp; demonstrate methods of pitching a tent and prepare a bed roll; present a record of troop, home, church and school service; approval by the committee on knowledge of safety rules as observed in his conduct in the troop, at home, and on the street during the month prior to camping.

The possibility of holding a district camp at Camp Conewago, near New Oxford, was discussed with the camp probably to be held between July 9 and July 23, the regular camping period there. Under the program discussed Tuesday the scouts will camp on a patrol basis, do their own cooking, sleep in tents and develop their own program. A progressive camping program with various types of camping for scouts with different degrees of skill was outlined. Five different types of camping, including Standard, Bucksin, Daniel Boone, Wilderness and Victory were listed. Each type is progressively more difficult and can be done only by more advanced scouts, it was explained.

REDS DRIVING TOWARD PSKOV FOR FETE DAY

London, Feb. 16 (AP)—General Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad Army pressed closer to historic Pskov today as other Red Army forces steadily whittled down the Cherkassy death pocket in the upper Dnieper bend where, the Russians said, some 50,000 trapped Nazis were fighting a last-ditch battle against overwhelming odds.

Capture of Pskov, hub of trunk lines serving an immense area to the south, west and east, would set up the beginning of a potential entrapment circle for those Germans holding positions between Lake Ilmen on the north and Novosokolniki, 120 miles to the south. Their escape avenue then would be cut to a 120-mile-wide gap between Pskov and Novosokolniki.

HIGH CAGERS WHIP CARLISLE FOR 11TH WIN

Gettysburg high school's cagers swung back into the win column here Tuesday evening by smothering Carlisle high 42-26 for their eleventh victory of the season.

The Carlisle quintet gave the Maroons a stiff battle in the first half and held the locals to an 18-16 margin at half time but in the second half the Dry-men punctured the visitors' zone defense almost at will to win easily.

Billy Ogden topped the scorers with 15 points, nearly all of his six goals coming on short tosses from near the hoop. Fair and March racked up 10 and nine points, respectively.

Carlisle got off to a good start on a pair of goals and foul by Barley before March sank a long side toss after over three minutes of play. Fair and March added long throws to put the Maroons ahead and then Ogden landed two short tosses before McCoy scored on a high toss to make the count 10-7 at the quarter with the locals in front.

Visitors Gain
The scoring see-sawed in the second period with Coach Dry's outfit maintaining a slight margin. Just before the half ended Hoffman looped a foul and Shenk a long toss to cut the Gettysburg margin to 18-16 at half time. Coach Dry used an entire new team during the last two minutes of the round.

It was all Gettysburg in the third period as Carlisle's attack was halted by the close guarding Maroons and Barley's goal early in the round was the visitors' only score. Each of the Maroon regulars broke into the scoring to hoist their lead to 30-18 at the period.

Fair landed to quick goals to open the final period before Shenk connected on a midcourt heave. March arched a long toss through and Ogden added two from beneath the hoop. Shenk and Gorman scored twin-pointers and the scoring ended on a goal by Barrett and his pair of fouls.

Jayvees Triumph
The Maroon javees gave a loose performance in the first half but came back strong in the second half to win the preliminary game from the Carlisle scrubs 32-14. At half time the visitors led 10-9.

On Friday the varsity and reserve teams will play Waynesboro high at Waynesboro.

Ardmore, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP)—Lower Merion's crack basketball team won its sixth title in the Philadelphia suburban conference for the sixth successive year.

The victors took 65 shots — and dropped 23 field goals. It was the last game for center Gitch Stuart, who leaves for the Army Air Corps today.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Dodgers' farm system apparently was what finally soured jeweler Max Meyer on the deal to purchase 75 per cent of the Brooklyn ball club.

After looking things over Max decided he didn't have the dough to shoulder all the potentially expensive appendages that went with the club. Dan Ferris predicts the 1,000 yards will be the big event of the AAU indoor track meet with Johnny Fulton, Joe Nowicki, Rudy Simms, Les Eisenhart and Jim Raftery in the field as opposed to the old Dodds-Hulse-Burnham act in the mile. You'd hardly convince Jug McSpaden and Byron Nelson that golf ain't what it used to be. For 16 tournament rounds so far this winter, not counting the Phoenix playoff, McSpaden has averaged 68.75 strokes and Nelson 69.06.

SHORT AND SHELLS

Word from New England is that Dartmouth's Ivy league basketball champs will be hitting the pro high-spots as the "Hanover Indians," which seems to put Dartmouth out of the NCAA tournament. With 49 scoring points so far, Toronto's Gus Bodnar already has busted the National Hockey league's rookie scoring record. The National Football league is thinking about overhauling its statistical system to include yardage, touchdown passes, percentage of interceptions and a few other odds and ends in deciding the passing champions next fall. . . . and probably the only guy who will understand it will be the Bears' signal-caller.

WHOSE HERO?

When Lieut. Benny Leonard, Herb Pennock and Charley Brickley met at a recent war bond rally in Wilmington, Delaware, the former lightweight champ's first question was: "Which one is Herb Pennock?" I've been wanting to meet him for years. And about the same time Pennock remarked, looking at Benny: "There's the greatest two-handed pitcher I ever saw."

Mason (Bunny) Brunson, former AP scribe turned Marine combat correspondent, reports that while mopping up operations were proceeding on Tarawa, a body of Marines retired to a nearby islet for a rest. Brunson stretched out under a palm tree to sleep but soon was awakened by shouts. Looking around, he saw a group of Marines playing touch football, using a coconut for a ball.

110 HORSES ARE LISTED FOR DERBY

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 16 (AP)—Nominations for the seventieth running of the Kentucky Derby closed at midnight yesterday as track speculators forecast a subscription list exceeding last year's, when 110 thoroughbreds were named for the classic. The last of three-year-old nominees, whose requirements are a $25 nominating fee and formal registration with the jockey club, will not be made public for three weeks. Owners have until Derby eve, May 5, to post the $500 entry fee. Platter, rated by many savants as the outstanding two-year-old last year and a leading rival to Pukka Gin and Occupy, will be on the list of nominees. Some doubt had existed that George D. Widener, Philadelphia sportsman, would name his Pimlico Futurity winner to the Downs classic, because of an aversion to early spring racing for his thoroughbreds, but it was announced at his Erdenheim farm that both Platter and Lucky Draw will be given the opportunity to run in the $75,000 Derby this year. The names of Occupy, Belmont Futurity winner, and the crack fillies Durazma, Harriet Sue and Miss Keeneland are reported in the hopper.

CANNERS TAKE TRIO OF GAMES

Biglerville high school basketball teams swept three games played Tuesday evening on the Biglerville court.

Cecil Snyder's boys walloped the Dover high lads 60-27 with Walters, Yost and Brough pacing the attack. At half time the Cannners were out in front 29-17.

The unbeaten Biglerville high girls won their eleventh straight by trouncing the Dover sextet 43-17. Coach Ehlman's team was held to a 19-12 margin at half time but swept far out in front in the remaining periods.

In the third game of the evening the Biglerville F.F.A. passers turned back the Two Taverns dribblers 27-14.

Lemoine high will send its boys' and girls teams against the Biglerville squads Thursday evening at Biglerville.

Monessen May Get WPIAL Title

Pittsburgh, Feb. 16 (AP)—The possibility that Monessen might win the Section 4 basketball title of the WPIAL for the fourth straight year due to a question of ineligibility of two Donora high players arose today.

Without lodging a formal protest, Tom Preston, Monessen faculty manager, called the attention of the Donora high school principal to the fact that two players, Snead and Kuzemko, have been in school nine semesters and therefore would, under WPIAL rules, be ineligible.

The matter was called to the attention of Mark Funk, league president, who called a meeting of the decisions' committee for tomorrow night. If the players are held ineligible, Monessen will be the sectional title winner.

HANDICAPPERS FACE PROBLEM

By ELLIOTT CHAZE

New Orleans, Feb. 16 (AP)—The form charts don't mean a thing when eight-year-old Marriage cranks up for a crack at the $25,000-added New Orleans handicap here Saturday.

The handicappers, who earn their bicarbonate of soda trying to make horse races come out fairly even have assigned top load of 124 pounds to Coward and Dupuy's gelding, But Marriage is that curious blend of infirmity and ability which can't be reckoned.

Rand Coward, co-owner, explained today that Marriage is unpredictable for these reasons, among others:

1. The horse has 4-F feet. A hard track stings them, and although marriage can pick them up just as fast as the next racer on a hard turf, he hates to lay them down.

2. Marriage doesn't sleep too well; will jump up in the middle of the night to get horsey with a handful of mosquitoes; after a bad night he doesn't want to run, and would rather chop up his handlers right fine with his teeth.

Coward estimates nevertheless that in the three years he's owned a piece of Marriage, the oldtimer has romped to about $200,000 in purse money.

Marriage likes a distance, and Saturday's test at a mile and a sixteenth should give him room to get rolling. With Rounders, First Fiddle, Amber Light and Jack S. L. among a field of 17 nominees, there won't be much time to baby his dogs.

Talks After His Larynx Is Removed

Philadelphia, Feb. 16 (AP)—Clarence Roesch stood up to make a speech before a Philadelphia unit of the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

"If they try, most people can talk with their larynx removed," he began. "Most of them are just lazy."

Then Dr. Chevalier Jackson, famed bronchoscopist, stepped up to confirm the statement. Roesch said Jackson, underwent an operation for removal of the larynx more than two years ago.

BEAU JACK IS EASY WINNER OVER BERGER

By LARRY SMITH

Cleveland, Feb. 16 (AP)—The batteries for last night's game—on, we forgot, it was a boxing match—featured Beau Jack, the New York conception of the lightweight championship, in the pitcher's box, and welterweight Maxie Berger, who should have known better, on the receiving end.

Berger, 27-year-old New York and Montreal leather pusher, figured his bout with the former Augusta, Ga., bootblack would put him into the big time. He did receive a sizable check, but he'll go back to club fighting.

Leaping in to register with slashing left hooks and following up with staggering rights, the Beau took all except the sixth round on the Associated Press score sheet — he missed that one because Referee Joe Sedley penalized him for low punching.

Berger went down for a two-count in the seventh after absorbing a choice assortment of the Jack artillery but he managed to stick it out for the full 10 rounds.

Early Start

Jack hurt Berger as early as the opening round when he connected with four solid left hooks and opened a cut above Maxie's left eye. Beau was rather indiscriminate in that heat for Referee Sedley got in the way of a right as both fighters continued to mix it after the bell.

The next six rounds were an encores of the opening session as the lightweight champ stalked his prey. Berger scored occasionally with counter punches but they didn't stop the Beau's aggressiveness.

Jack reached the peak of his performance in the seventh. A right hook staggered Berger and another right dumped him on the canvas. He arose after a two-count and went through the motions of countering but staggered into more of the Jack offerings.

The Beau came into the ring at 138 pounds for his over-the-weight match, five and three-quarter pounds less than his opponent. The gross gate of $30,040 represented contributions by 8,206 customers.

Word from New England is that Dartmouth's Ivy league basketball champs will be hitting the pro high-spots as the "Hanover Indians," which seems to put Dartmouth out of the NCAA tournament. . . . With 49 scoring points so far, Toronto's Gus Bodnar already has busted the National Hockey league's rookie scoring record. . . . The National Football league is thinking about overhauling its statistical system to include yardage, touchdown passes, percentage of interceptions and a few other odds and ends in deciding the passing champions next fall. . . . and probably the only guy who will understand it will be the Bears' signal-caller.

WHOSE HERO?

When Lieut. Benny Leonard, Herb Pennock and Charley Brickley met at a recent war bond rally in Wilmington, Delaware, the former lightweight champ's first question was: "Which one is Herb Pennock? I've been wanting to meet him for years." And about the same time Pennock remarked, looking at Benny: "There's the greatest two-handed pitcher I ever saw."

Mason (Bunk) Brunson, former AP scribe turned Marine combat correspondent, reports that while mopping up operations were proceeding on Tarawa, a body of Marines retired to a nearby islet for a rest. Brunson stretched out under a palm tree to sleep but soon was awakened by shouts. Looking around, he saw a group of Marines playing touch football, using a coconut for a ball.

110 HORSES ARE LISTED FOR DERBY

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 16 (AP)—Nominations for the seventieth running of the Kentucky Derby closed at midnight yesterday as track speculators forecast a subscription list exceeding last year's, when 110 thoroughbreds were named for the classic.

The last of three-year-old nominees, whose requirements are a $25 nominating fee and formal registration with the jockey club, will not be made public for three weeks. Owners have until Derby eve, May 5, to post the $500 entry fee.

Platter, rated by many savants as the outstanding two-year-old last year and a leading rival to Pukka Gin and Occupy, will be on the list of nominees.

Some doubt had existed that George D. Widener, Philadelphia sportsman, would name his Pimlico Futurity winner to the Downs classic, because of an aversion to early spring racing for his thoroughbreds, but it was announced at his Erdenheim farm that both Platter and Lucky Draw will be given the opportunity to run in the $75,000 Derby this year.

Cecil Snyder's boys walloped the Dover high lads 60-27 with Walters, Yost and Brough pacing the attack. At half time the Canners were out in front 29-17.

The unbeaten Biglerville high girls won their eleventh straight by trouncing the Dover sextet 43-17. Coach Ehlman's team was held to a 19-12 margin at half time but swept far out in front in the remaining periods.

In the third game of the evening the Biglerville F.F.A. passers turned back the Two Taverns dribblers 27-14.

Lemoine high will send its boys' and girls teams against the Biglerville squads Thursday evening at Biglerville.

Monessen May Get WPIAL Title

Pittsburgh, Feb. 16 (AP)—The possibility that Monessen might win the Section 4 basketball title of the WPIAL for the fourth straight year due to a question of ineligibility of two Donora high players arose today.

Without lodging a formal protest, Tom Preston, Monessen faculty manager, called the attention of the Donora high school principal to the fact that two players, Snead and Kuzemko, have been in school nine semesters and therefore would, under WPIAL rules, be ineligible.

The matter was called to the attention of Mark Funk, league president, who called a meeting of the decisions' committee for tomorrow night. If the players are held ineligible, Monessen will be the sectional title winner.

HANDICAPPERS FACE PROBLEM

By ELLIOTT CHAZE

New Orleans, Feb. 16 (AP)—The form charts don't mean a thing when eight-year-old Marriage cranks up for a crack at the $25,000-added New Orleans handicap here Saturday.

The handicappers, who earn their bicarbonate of soda trying to make horse races come out fairly even have assigned top load of 124 pounds to Coward and Dupuy's gelding, But Marriage is that curious blend of infirmity and ability which can't be reckoned.

Rand Coward, co-owner, explained today that Marriage is unpredictable for these reasons, among others:

1. The horse has 4-F feet. A hard track stings them, and although marriage can pick them up just as fast as the next racer on a hard turf, he hates to lay them down.

2. Marriage doesn't sleep too well; will jump up in the middle of the night to get horse with a handful of mosquitoes; after a bad night he doesn't want to run, and would rather chop up his handlers right fine with his teeth.

Coward estimates nevertheless that in the three years he's owned a piece of Marriage, the oldtimer has romped to about $200,000 in purse money.

Marriage likes a distance, and Saturday's test at a mile and a sixteenth should give him room to get rolling. With Rounders, First Fiddle, Amber Light and Jack S. L. among a field of 17 nominees, there won't be much time to baby his dogs.

Talks After His Larynx Is Removed

Philadelphia, Feb. 16 (AP)—Clarence Roesch stood up to make a speech before a Philadelphia unit of the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

"If they try, most people can talk with their larynx removed," he began. "Most of them are just lazy."

Then Dr. Chevalier Jackson, famed bronchoscopist, stepped up to confirm the statement. Roesch said Jackson, underwent an operation for removal of the larynx more than two years ago.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

INCIDENT

The sky was filled with deadly flak. And the bullets struck like rain. There seemed no chance of getting back To the English coast again.

The tail of the ship was blown in two.

And part of the wing was gone. "Jump!" said the pilot to his crew, And they did so, one by one.

There came to his side a boy white-lipped.

Of hope he thought was none. He whispered: "Sir, my chute is ripped!"

Drawled the pilot: "Son, hang on!"

"Things are mighty thick up here just now,

But I'm heading for the 'drome. Just hang on, son, for awhile! Somehow,

Papa will take you home!"

And in they came with the battered ship.

Almost touching the channel foam.

With courage, rare, from a desperate trip, Papa had brought him home!

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

MORALE FOR TODAY

The product of everything that we do, or accomplish, is largely influenced by our own personal morale. We cannot do our best work when we are unhappy, or with worries eating into our minds, like hidden termites. We can only reach our greatest usefulness, and be happiest, with our morale on high ground.

Efficiency always takes a drop when morale drops. Soldiers write to me that when they get a letter from home, or from a friend, their morale climbs right up the ladder! It's that important.

Never in the history of the world has morale played such an important part. Break a nation's morale, for example, and that nation starts its retreat to defeat. To keep up our morale here at home is to back up the morale of our boys at the front.

A diversity, or variety of interests, does wonders in keeping up the morale of anyone. The mind that is occupied happily does not grow stagnant, and stagnancy is one of the causes for lack of morale. Wide and diversified reading, for example, keeps the mind alert and healthy. The type of reading is very important. No one can help but think cleaner and be inspired at the same time, after a reading of the "Sermon on the Mount"—one of the great discourses in all literature.

The love of books, the knowledge and enthusiasm of Nature, and the taking of a reverent attitude toward life and all its possibilities, cannot help but feed one's morale and keep it in a high state. And nothing soothes the spirit as does sincere prayer.

The fine poetry of the world has had a most heartening effect upon the morale of us all. It separates from our minds so much of the sordid and material, leading us "beside the still waters," among fragrant flowers, and where the winds among the willows are cool and refreshing.

Every one of us has a task to perform in keeping a healthy morale ever alive. Our daily thoughts and actions create it through our influence. And how very important is that influence!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Uncle Sam."

NOTE BIG DROP IN ENROLLMENT IN PA. SCHOOLS

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania schools had 85,250 fewer pupils enrolled last November than a year earlier, with declining attendance in high schools accounting for most of the drop.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of Public Instruction, reporting 1,518,564 registered, said today three factors causing the decline were "normal decrease in population, the employment of minors in industry and on farms under various laws governing child labor, and boys entering the several branches of the armed forces."

He said the enrollment of 951,377 in elementary grades was a drop of 38,079 over 1942 and the 567,187 in high schools, a decline of 47,171 from the previous year. Total enrollment declined 5.3 per cent from 1942, he added.

Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, Dr. Haas declared, "showed the heaviest losses relatively, the actual figures being 18,919. Of this number, Philadelphia lost 6,489 in schools alone while Pittsburgh had 4,852 fewer high school pupils registered."

The counties of Carbon, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Northumberland and Schuylkill, he added, reported "particularly heavy decreases in both the elementary and high school divisions." Total enrollment in the five counties dropped from 188,894 in 1942 to 166,643, a loss of 22,251 or 11.8 per cent.

Declaring the state-wide rate of decrease is less than in the previous school year, Dr. Haas said the 7.7 per cent drop in high school enrollment was about the same for both urban and rural districts, while in the elementary grades, the heaviest loss was in industrial areas.

WILLKIE NOW A "CANDIDATE"

Portland, Ore., Feb. 16 (AP)—Wendell Willkie on Monday formally announced his candidacy for the Republican Presidential nomination and selected Ralph H. Cake, Oregon's GOP National committeeman, as his pre-convention campaign manager.

The 1940 party nominee said at a press conference the Republicans can win the 1944 Presidential election only by offering proof to the electorate through its candidate and its platform that:

1. The United States can more effectively fight the war with a Republican instead of a Democrat as its Chief Executive.

2. The Republican party has a more comprehensive understanding than the Democrats of America's post-war social and economic adjustments and responsibilities.

3. The GOP's interest in the understanding of the United States' role in world cooperation is stronger and deeper than that of the Democrats.

Willkie added that such a three-point program "must not be a mere cloak put on for political and campaign purposes but a deep and abiding belief" which must be carried by the party's Presidential candidate.

New "Pittsburgh" To Be Launched

Quincy, Mass., Feb. 16 (AP)—The third U. S. S. Pittsburgh, listed in "the ships and aircraft of the U. S. fleet," unofficially as of a 13,000-ton cruiser class, will be launched at the Fore River shipyard Tuesday with the wife of Pittsburgh's mayor Cornelius D. Scully as sponsor.

The new craft is a far cry from the first "Ironclad" Pittsburgh, a 512-ton stern-wheeler built in 1861. Pittsburgh No. 1 participated in the Civil war, including the attack on Ft. Donelson, Tenn., in February, 1862.

The second Pittsburgh, was the original U. S. S. Pennsylvania in 1905, renamed in 1912. She was of 13,680 tons and had a battery of four eight-inch guns and 14 six-inch guns serving as flagship of the U. S. Pacific fleet in World War I and as flagship in the eastern Mediterranean after the war. She was scrapped in 1931.

PATERNITY SUIT WON BY CHAPLIN

Los Angeles, Feb. 16 (AP)—Charlie Chaplin's slim shoulders, weighted beneath a series of criminal and civil actions, were relieved today of one burden—red-haired Joan Berry's charges that he is the father of her four-months-old daughter.

Counsel for Chaplin and Miss Berry accepted the verdict of a medical board that the 54-year-old English-born actor did not father the youngster, as she alleged in a paternity suit against him.

"Under the terms of our stipulation the decision is conclusive," said J. J. Irwin, attorney for Miss Berry, 24, who bore the baby, Carol Ann, last October. "We must and will abide by the doctors' decision."

Charges Stand
Chaplin had denied paternity but paid Miss Berry some $15,000 for medical expenses and agreed to undergo a blood test to settle the matter.

Chaplin, with six others, also is charged in grand jury indictments with having conspired to compel Miss Berry to leave California after a quarrel at the actor's Beverly Hills home.

Irwin and Wright agreed that dismissal of the paternity suit would be a mere formality. The decision in the civil case has no legal bearing on the Mann act and conspiracy charges.

FDR Arranges For Wagon For Kiddies

Lock Haven, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP)—Four Lock Haven youngsters wanted a coaster wagon to haul scrap and went to President Roosevelt for help—and got it.

Charles Gottschall, Jr., 11, his brother, Robert, 10, and their two sisters, Doris May, 12 and Shirley, 9, were proud of their war work but were discouraged about transportation means.

So, Charles penned this letter to President Roosevelt:

"I know you are awfully busy and I won't take up much of your time, but I have a problem. I thought you might be able to help me."

"I and my two sisters and my brother are doing all we can to help win the war, gathering scrap. We have no wagon."

"Would you please ask the OPA to help me locate a strong wagon that I would buy that didn't cost too much. We just can't give up now."

The letter went from the White House to the Washington OPA office; to the New York regional OPA headquarters and then to the Williamsport district office.

The OPA at Williamsport fixed things for the Lock Haven war price and rationing board to present the quartet with a wagon.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

INCIDENT
The sky was filled with deadly flak. And the bullets struck like rain. There seemed no chance of getting back To the English coast again.

The tail of the ship was blown in two
And part of the wing was gone.
"Jump!" said the pilot to his crew,
And they did so, one by one.

There came to his side a boy
White-lipped.
Of hope he thought was none.
He whispered: "Sir, my 'chute is ripped!"
Drawled the pilot: "Son, hang on!"

"Things are mighty thick up here
Just now,
But I'm heading for the 'drome.
Just hang on, son, for awhile!
Somehow,
Papa will take you home!"

And in they came with the battered ship
Almost touching the channel foam.
With courage, rare, from a desperate trip,
Papa had brought him home!

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

MORALE FOR TODAY

The product of everything that we do, or accomplish, is largely influenced by our own personal morale. We cannot do our best work when we are unhappy, or with worries eating into our minds, like hidden termites. We can only reach our greatest usefulness, and be happiest, with our morale on high ground.

Efficiency always takes a drop when morale drops. Soldiers write to me that when they get a letter from home, or from a friend, their morale climbs right up the ladder! It's that important.

Never in the history of the world has morale played such an important part. Break a nation's morale, for example, and that nation starts its retreat to defeat. To keep up our morale here at home is to back up the morale of our boys at the front.

A diversity, or variety of interests, does wonders in keeping up the morale of anyone. The mind that is occupied happily does not grow stagnant, and stagnancy is one of the causes for lack of morale. Wide and diversified reading, for example, keeps the mind alert and healthy. The type of reading is very important. No one can help but think cleaner and be inspired at the same time, after a reading of the "Sermon on the Mount"—one of the great discourses in all literature.

The love of books, the knowledge and enthusiasm of Nature, and the taking of a reverent attitude toward life and all its possibilities, cannot help but feed one's morale and keep it in a high state. And nothing soothes the spirit as does sincere prayer.

The fine poetry of the world has had a most heartening effect upon the morale of us all. It separates from our minds so much of the sordid and material, leading us "beside the still waters," among fragrant flowers, and where the winds among the willows are cool and refreshing.

Every one of us has a task to perform in keeping a healthy morale ever alive. Our daily thoughts and actions create it through our influence. And how very important is that influence!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Uncle Sam."

NOTE BIG DROP IN ENROLLMENT IN PA. SCHOOLS

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania schools had 85,250 fewer pupils enrolled last November than a year earlier, with declining attendance in high schools accounting for most of the drop.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of Public Instruction, said today three factors causing the decline were "normal decrease in population, the employment of minors in industry and on farms under various laws governing child labor, and boys entering the several branches of the armed forces."

He said the enrollment of 951,377 in elementary grades was a drop of 38,079 over 1942 and the 567,187 in high schools, a decline of 47,171 from the previous year. Total enrollment declined 5.3 per cent from 1942, he added.

Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, Dr. Haas declared, "showed the heaviest losses relatively, the actual figures being 18,919. Of this number, Philadelphia lost 6,489 in schools alone while Pittsburgh has 4,852 fewer high school pupils registered."

The counties of Carbon, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Northumberland and Schuylkill, he added, reported "particularly heavy decreases in both the elementary and high school divisions." Total enrollment in the five counties dropped from 188,994 in 1942 to 166,643, a loss of 22,251 or 11.8 per cent.

Declaring the state-wide rate of decrease is less than in the previous school year, Dr. Haas said the 7.7 per cent drop in high school enrollment was about the same for both urban and rural districts, while in the elementary grades, the heaviest loss was in industrial areas.

Flashes Of Life

"MORALE LOANS"

The Army Emergency Relief office makes "morale loans" up to $5 to tide them over.

APO-BERLIN

Berlin, Conn. (AP)—The local Service Star committee has a $25 war bond waiting for the first serviceman or woman from Berlin, Conn., who sends him a post card or letter from Berlin, Germany.

A second bond awaits the first one to send word from Tokyo. Prisoners of war don't count.

OUTER PASSAGE

Williamsport, Pa. (AP)—The city's post-war planners have their eyes on a utility pole that stands only 18 inches from the wall of Lyeomung county jail.

It's helped several escaping prisoners to freedom, but the Pennsylvania Power and Light company said it can't be removed and replaced now because of priorities.

SPECIALIST

Philadelphia, (AP)—Police are looking for a thief who's still on the gold standard.

He broke into Thomas Annesley's home but took only 26 U. S. gold coins worth $120 — ignoring several valuable furs and two expensive watches, one studded with diamonds.

MAKES A HAUL

Los Angeles, (AP)—Four men answered an ad asking for passengers on a trip to Raleigh, N. C. The driver picked them up, collected $50 from each, then said he had to stop at the postoffice. He went inside and that was the last the passengers saw of him. The car had been rented.

Commutation Is Asked For Convict

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—Commutation of the life sentence of Daniel Donohue, Eastern penitentiary prisoner, who twice donated skin for grafting to a Philadelphia child, has been recommended to the State Pardon board.

Frank P. Tucker, senior parole officer, told the board in making the plea yesterday that Donohue, sentenced in Berks county in 1929 for the slaying of Police Chief Wilson Lewars of Hamburg following a holdup, also has provided blood for transfusions.

Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livengood, Jr., a member of the board, observed, however, "there is terrific opposition in the community of Hamburg to the commutation."

Mrs. Harry Boyle, president, presided. The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag. Mrs. R. M. Zacharias read the history of the Statue of Liberty and the group sang "America." The roll call was answered by an interesting discussion on Brazil. Three dollars and seventy cents was turned over to the club by Mrs. John Wagerman representing the proceeds of a card party held recently at her home, 714 West Main street. The reading chairman, Mrs. George Eyster, announced the poem for the month, "Snowbound," by John Greenleaf Whittier.

WILLKIE NOW A "CANDIDATE"

Portland, Ore., Feb. 16 (AP)—Wendell Willkie on Monday formally announced his candidacy for the Republican Presidential nomination and selected Ralph H. Cake, Oregon's GOP National committeeman, as his pre-convention campaign manager.

The 1940 party nominee said at a press conference the Republicans can win the 1944 Presidential election only by offering proof to the electorate through its candidate and its platform that:

1. The United States can more effectively fight the war with a Republican instead of a Democrat as its Chief Executive.

2. The Republican party has a more comprehensive understanding than the Democrats of America's post-war social and economic adjustments and responsibilities.

3. The GOP's interest in the understanding of the United States' role in world cooperation is stronger and deeper than that of the Democrats.

Willkie added that such a three-point program "must not be a mere cloak put on for political and campaign purposes but a deep and abiding belief" which must be carried by the party's Presidential candidate.

New "Pittsburgh" To Be Launched

Quincy, Mass., Feb. 16 (AP)—The third U. S. S. Pittsburgh, listed in "the ships and aircraft of the U. S. fleet" unofficially as of a 13,000-ton cruiser class, will be launched at the Fore River shipyard Tuesday with the wife of Pittsburgh's mayor Cornelius D. Scully as sponsor.

The new craft is a far cry from the first "Ironclad" Pittsburgh, a 512-ton stern-wheeler built in 1861. Pittsburgh No. 1 participated in the Civil war, including the attack on Ft. Donelson, Tenn., in February, 1862.

The second Pittsburgh, was the original U. S. S. Pennsylvania in 1905, renamed in 1912. She was of 13,680 tons and had a battery of four eight-inch guns and 14 six-inch guns serving as flagship of the U. S. Pacific fleet in World War I and as flagship in the eastern Mediterranean after the war. She was scrapped in 1931.

PATERNITY SUIT WON BY CHAPLIN

Los Angeles, Feb. 16 (AP)—Charlie Chaplin's slim shoulders, weighted beneath a series of criminal and civil actions, were relieved today of one burden—red-haired Joan Berry's charges that he is the father of her four-months-old daughter.

Counsel for Chaplin and Miss Berry accepted the verdict of a medical board that the 54-year-old British-born actor did not father the youngster, as she alleged in a paternity suit against him.

"Under the terms of our stipulation the decision is conclusive," said J. J. Irwin, attorney for Miss Berry, 24, who bore the baby, Carol Ann, last October. "We must and will abide by the doctors' decision."

Charges Stand

Chaplin had denied paternity but paid Miss Berry some $15,000 for medical expenses and agreed to undergo a blood test to settle the matter.

Chaplin, with six others, also is charged in grand jury indictments with having conspired to compel Miss Berry to leave California after a quarrel at the actor's Beverly Hills home.

Irwin and Wright agreed that dismissal of the paternity suit would be a mere formality. The decision in the civil case has no legal bearing on the Mann act and conspiracy charges.

Meetings Planned For Dads In Draft

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—Problems besetting prospective inductees and their families will be discussed at a series of local informational meetings planned by the state defense council at the request of the Army's Third Service Command.

Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, defense director, who said the drafting of fathers made the need for information greater, explained that local school superintendents, draft boards, veterans groups, state guard units and others will be asked to cooperate in arranging meetings, to be held about once a month.

Programs will include talks on such subjects as money allowances for dependents, insurance problems, processes at medical and reception centers and Red Cross aid.

The state council also urged civilian defense volunteers to discourage loose talk during this pre-invasion period.

To Draft 1,500,000 Men Before July 1

Glen Ridge, N. J., Feb. 16 (AP)—The necessity for an armed force of 11,300,000 men by July 1, 1944, is foreseen by General Lewis B. Hershey, National Selective Service director.

To accomplish this, the armed forces will need 1,500,000 new men by July 1, Hershey told the Glen Ridge Battalion Forum last night. Pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, youths reaching 18 and men released from war industries will supply the quota. Although the mustering out of servicemen for disability has increased demands on draft boards, Hershey said, the demands will be met. "This is not a war for the convenience of some at the sacrifice of others," he said. "It is not an opportunity for some to profit while other men give their lives."

Although fatal industrial accidents went down in 1943, the trend on injuries went up.

U. S. industries spent more than $100,000,000 for safety equipment in 1943.

There is still another financial item that goes with this picture . . . and that is the additional visitors the detachment has lured to Gettysburg . . . the parents, sons, brothers, sweethearts and friends of these men. There is no accurate way of determining the extent of this new revenue but if it could be secured it would enhance the grand total considerably.

All of this will be plucked from us come June 1 . . . unless the War Department can be prevailed upon to rescind its order and continue its training program for aviation students at Gettysburg.

Coal Shipments Nearing Normal

Philadelphia, Feb. 16 (AP)—Shipments of coal and coke to Philadelphia are approaching normal and the worst shortage since the first World War is being eased, says Edwin L. Willson, regional representative of solid fuels administration.

About 47,500 tons are arriving here each week, or "within 2,500 tons of the actual weekly needs of domestic consumers," Willson announced, adding "the outlook is bright."

The city council of defense, however, reported receiving 700 calls yesterday from householders who said they had enough coal to last only three days.

Chapter 22

For once Kay was cheerfully stubborn. "We can see the plane in the morning, kiddo."

"I want to see it now," Julie stopped scrubbing her arms and hands with the towel.

"But Jack's coming to dinner. Don't you think we ought to get home?"

"He'll be out there looking at it too. You know that."

Kay shrugged, and cried brightly to cover anxiety. "Okay. We'll give it the once over."

They joined the group of chattering workers who were going through the enormous hangar-like factory room to the door that led directly on the flying field.

Already the morning shift were in their places. As Julie passed by her jig, she saw a girl in a red hairnet and Hawaiian blouse wielding a rivet gun.

"There," Kay grinned at Julie's stare, "but for grace of five minutes shifting time, 'are you'."

"Five minutes and a red hairnet," corrected Julie with a weak flash of spirit.

"Check!" laughed Kay. They had agreed on their shared aversion for the brilliant, yarn hairnets.

The early morning mist was still close to the ground out on the field. The air was damp and fresh after the smell of oil and hot metal that permeated the factory.

Five hundred yards off stood the Aleutian plane, surrounded by a milling crowd of workers. Kay and Julie moved along with the factory group to join them.

A voice over the loud speaker above the field was telling the history and exploits of the plane, the names of its pilot, the number of times it had engaged Jap fighters.

"It's the same recording they'll use in the bond drives," a stocky welder told them. "Swell speech, isn't it?"

Julie's fingers closed hard on Kay's arm as they came close to the stream-lined little fighter . . . and she could see the bullet-riddled wings, the battered fuselage the loudspeaker was describing.

She was seeing, too, those other words from the news article, "After his plane was riddled with enemy gunfire and burst into flames, Lieutenant Rutledge . . ."

The morning sun found its way through the mist now, and the plane gleamed.

From somewhere underneath it one of the guards crawled out. Behind him came the stooping figure of Jack Parker.

Kay chuckled drily. "He would be curled up in it somewhere," she said. Jack saw them and made his way through the crowd to them. "Did you see her row of rising suns?" he demanded. "Isn't she a honey?"

As she fought for control, her sick gaze fastened automatically on a portion of the scarred and bullet-ridden fuselage. Her eyes moved from rivet to rivet. Four across—eight down—two across—four across—eight down—two across—four across—eight down—two across—

"Come on," Kay's voice carried cheerful authority. "We're going home. And if you want some food, Parker, you'll wheel out that chariot of yours post haste."

In ten minutes they drew up before the apartment. Julie leaped from the car. "I want to hear the radio reports," she said and fled up the stairs.

They listened to them while they ate breakfast. There were fragments of reports of the Attu battle—such heart-breakingly brief fragments.

Jack looked so mournfully sympathetic that Kay kicked him under the table.

"How're the new plans coming?" she asked cheerfully as she brought him an ashtray. Her gaze commanded him to talk.

Obediently he talked. At first he spoke aimlessly, but soon warmed automatically to the beloved subject. Of the beauty—the speed the precision of the new models.

"I'm working on a—thing now," he was leaning over the table, his thin face glowing with eagerness, "that's really sumpin'. Boy, the possibilities in some of these new—when they're really utilized—after the war—revolutionize things—"

Kay sighed and rose to pour him more coffee. "That's what I like about your descriptions," she said wryly. "They're so definite. You always give us the facts and figures."

Julie smiled wanly. "I'm terribly afraid the FBI is going to be on your trail for your garrulousness," she teased.

Jack grinned sheepishly as he held up two fingers for sugar. "My roommate says—talk in my sleep," he said. "Tell everything I'm doing—and worrying about—but never mention facts or figures."

"It's an art," sighed Kay. They sat waiting for the next radio report. Julie was tapping absently on the tablecloth with her knife. Unconsciously moving four across—eight down—two across—four across—eight down . . .

Suddenly she looked up with a sudden startled expression, her hand poised above the table with the knife.

"The plane we saw today—" she questioned, "did Empire build it?"

Jack regarded her with mild surprise. "Sure," he said. "That's why they landed it on our landing field."

Julie's hand had clenched around the knife until her knuckles were white. "Then," she said slowly, "we built David's ship, too."

Jack nodded. "Both were from Job D-23."

Julie's eyes were wide with startled wonder, her lips parted in an awed smile. "I—worked on job D-23," she whispered. "That's why that one piece in the fuselage looked so familiar. Somehow I never thought of my work actually holding part of a plane together . . ."

Her eyes moved slowly from Jack's face to Kay's. "Maybe holding—Dave's plane together."

Kay breathed a silent prayer of relief.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—By all indications, the movies more and more are finding the radio a fertile field from which to draw talent for their cameras. This is somewhat of a reverse from the earlier days of broadcasting when microphone stars in the films were the exception rather than the rule.

A check-over of late developments show that Fibber McGee and Molly as well as Hal (Gildersleeve) Peary are lined up to make a series of comedies; Abbott and Costello begin another picture shortly; three of the latest developed singers, Frank Sinatra, Dick Haymes and Peery Como, all have definite movie plans; and numerous others have gone and are going before the cameras.

In that category are Jack Benny, Don Ameche, Eddie Cantor and Dorothy Lamour, to name just a few.

25 CREWMEN OF BRITISH SHIP LOST IN WRECK

Portsmouth, N. H., Feb. 16 (AP)—Twenty-five members of the crew of 45 on a 7,244-ton British freighter were lost when the ship piled onto Boon Island ledge, about 12 miles off York, Me., in driving blizzard Friday and split in two, the First Naval District public relations office disclosed today, with approval of the British admiralty.

The motor vessel crashed onto the rock at 2:23 p. m. (EWT), and, pounded all night by terrific seas, broke up Saturday morning with the forward half remaining fast on the ledge and the aft half floating crazily away to sink later, Chief Engineer Svend Haagenen related in an interview.

Survivors Treated

Rescue ships stood by but could not get close enough to take off the men. The rescue craft, including Coast Guard and U. S. Naval vessels, rendered daring service, however, in picking up survivors from the tempest-ridden seas. Thirteen bodies were recovered later.

Thirteen of the survivors were taken to Portland, Me., and seven more were brought into Portsmouth. Virtually all required hospital treatment.

50-Foot Swells

Most of the ship's lifesaving equipment either was washed into the sea or smashed when the vessel split, and some rafts capsized after they hit the water.

Haagenen related that he was one of 19 men in the forward section who plunged into the boisterous ocean as the ship split. Fifty foot swells, he said, were running during the night.

"We jumped," he related, "just as the ship broke in two, between the saloon and the third hatch. I was in the water about 20 minutes before a life raft floated by with the second mate on it. I climbed on it and later three others joined us. Two, Svend, Hansen and Eigel Sjoitow, clung to a parge plank. We were carrying a general cargo."

Discover Shortage In Town's Accounts

Williamsport, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP)—Shortages of "something over $150,000" have been discovered in the bond accounts of Montgomery borough and the Montgomery borough-Clinton township school district, District Attorney Joseph P. Kellner of Lycoming county has reported.

Kellner is investigating the finances of the two governmental units following arrest of Lawrence A. Henderson, 51, Montgomery publisher of weekly newspapers, on charges of forging the name of P. P. Hartman, president of the Montgomery-Clinton Coal association to ten $1,000 bonds of the organization, formed in 1928 to raise funds for a high school.

Henderson, who is also a former borough treasurer and secretary of the association, waived a preliminary hearing and was committed to jail in default of $10,000 bond.

Growers Threaten To Omit '44 Crop

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP)—Two hundred and seventy-five Lancaster county tobacco growers—many owning the prime acres of Pennsylvania—declare they will not plant crops next spring unless their dispute over ceiling prices for the 1943 crop is settled by the Office of Price Administration and the prices for 1944 tobacco set.

Meeting last night, the growers, representing 994 acres of unsold tobacco, were unanimous in their stand. John S. Shenk reported that although OPA has publicly announced that it would not raise prices for the present crop, the Lancaster County Tobacco Growers association has not been notified officially.

The growers want 25 cents a pound for wrapper leaf, 10 cents for filler and 15 cents for "run of the crop" as against the OPA set prices of 21¢ for wrapper, seven for filler and 10 for ungraded.

A county growers' survey indicated that about 45 per cent of the 1943 crop—estimated at 30,000,000 pounds—

Ceiling Price On Used Refrigerators

Individuals who are disposing of used mechanical refrigerators or washing machines are again warned by the OPA of price control regulations governing these transactions.

Indicating that most retailers are complying with established ceiling prices, OPA stated that individual owners are selling used refrigerators and washing machines without consulting their local War Price and Rationing board in order to learn the top sales price allowed under price control.

OPA pointed out that price ceilings cover all sales of used household mechanical refrigerators by any person to any other person, including sales by an individual who is selling his own refrigerator, and sales by dealers or auctioneers.

Similarly, the regulation which covers used washing machine sales states that all such machines which have been used, or which have been in the possession of one or more consumers for more than 90 days are subject to price ceilings.

Violators of these price control regulations face suits for $50 or three times the overcharge, whichever is greater, OPA warns.

Many Farmers Can't Increase Output

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—"Many farmers do not possibly see how they can further expand their operations this year," Gasteiger, State Agriculture Department statistician, said today in reporting on agricultural conditions in Pennsylvania in January.

Gasteiger also said reporters of the department's crop reporting service assert "feed supplies are frequently reported inadequate to carry through till pasture and can be replenished only at unusually high figures."

Machinery, however, is bringing good prices at sales, he added, but "markets for livestock and eggs are sluggish."

Outside of some northern Pennsylvania counties, he said, the ground last month was generally bare of snow, which, with freezing and thawing, reduced the condition of winter grains and meadows. Good temporary protection was provided by recent fairly heavy snows, he added.

To Pick Successor To State AAA Head

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—A new chairman of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Adjustment Agency committee will be selected Monday to succeed James E. Walker, Somerset county, who has headed the agency for the last five years.

Clyde A. Zehner, committee vice chairman, who said Walker resigned, explained "it is customary to rotate state committeemen every four years" and added Walker remained a member longer than usual.

He said the remaining four members of the AAA committee will meet with Washington officials to fill the $4,800 a year chairmanship which also includes direction of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's State War Board.

Committeemen in addition to Zehner are John Smith, Cumberland county, secretary; George Shuler, Berks county, and Albert Smith, Crawford county. Walker was not immediately available for comment.

Special Session Of Legislature Asked

Stroudsburg, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP)—A special session of the Pennsylvania Legislature to enact soldier vote legislation was urged by Thomas Lambert Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in a letter sent out to Governor Edward Martin today.

The post suggested that servicemen's names be obtained from draft boards and their addresses from relatives; and that ballots be mailed to them.

—remains unsold. The growers' dispute has been on for about six weeks.

PUC TO DECIDE RATE QUESTION

Harrisburg, Feb. 16 (AP)—The Public Utility commission—upheld once before by the state superior court—was called upon today to decide whether it had jurisdiction over rates charged by municipal authorities for service outside of the political subdivisions which created the agencies.

PUC's right to regulate such rates was opposed yesterday by the State College borough authority at a hearing resulting from a 1943 amendment to the municipal authority law.

John H. Orman and six others living outside State College borough and receiving water service from the authority said they are being charged rates which are not uniform with those charged within the borough limits.

The authority is "charging two or three rates—some get service free," William W. Litke, Bellefonte, counsel for the complainants, told the commission.

Edward W. Willard, State College, counsel for the authority, said it was the legislative intent of the 1943 amendment to place the jurisdiction of rates charged customers outside municipal limits in the hands of the courts of common pleas.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—By all indications, the movies more and more are finding the radio a fertile field from which to draw talent for their cameras. This is somewhat of a reverse from the earlier days of broadcasting when microphone stars in the films were the exception rather than the rule.

A check-over of late developments show that Fibber McGee and Molly as well as Hal (Gildersleeve) Peary are lined up to make a series of comedies; Abbott and Costello begin another picture shortly; three of the latest developed singers, Frank Sinatra, Dick Haymes and Perry Como, all have definite movie plans; and numerous others have gone and are going before the cameras.

In that category are Jack Benny, Don Ameche, Eddie Cantor and Dorothy Lamour, to name just a few.

25 CREWMEN OF BRITISH SHIP LOST IN WRECK

Portsmouth, N. H., Feb. 16 (AP)—Twenty-five members of the crew of 45 on a 7,244-ton British freighter were lost when the ship piled onto Boon Island ledge, about 12 miles off York, Me., in a driving blizzard Friday and split in two, the First Naval District public relations office disclosed today, with approval of the British admiralty.

The motor vessel crashed onto the rock at 2:23 p. m. (EWT), and, pounded all night by terrific seas, broke up Saturday morning with the forward half remaining fast on the ledge and the aft half floating crazily away to sink later, Chief Engineer Svend Haagensen related in an interview.

Survivors Treated
Rescue ships stood by but could not get close enough to take off the men. The rescue craft, including Coast Guard and U. S. Naval vessels, rendered daring service, however, in picking up survivors from the tempest-ridden seas. Thirteen bodies were recovered later.

Thirteen of the survivors were taken to Portland, Me., and seven more were brought into Portsmouth. Virtually all required hospital treatment.

50-Foot Swells
Most of the ship's lifesaving equipment either was washed into the sea or smashed when the vessel split, and some rafts capsized after they hit the water.

Haagensen related that he was one of 19 men in the forward section who plunged into the boisterous ocean as the ship split. Fifty foot swells, he said, were running during the night.

"We jumped," he related, "just as the ship broke in two, between the saloon and the third hatch. I was in the water about 20 minutes before a life raft floated by with the second mate on it. I climbed on and later three others joined us. Two, Svend Hansen and Elgel Sjøtjov, clung to a parg plank. We were carrying a general cargo."

Discover Shortage In Town's Accounts

Williamsport, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP)—Shortages of "something over $150,000" have been discovered in the bond accounts of Montgomery borough and the Montgomery borough-Clinton township school district, District Attorney Joseph P. Kellher of Lycoming county has reported.

Kellher is investigating the finances of the two governmental units following arrest of Lawrence A. Henderson, 51, Montgomery publisher of weekly newspapers, on charges of forging the name of P. F. Hartgraff, president of the Montgomery-Clinton Coal association to ten $1,000 bonds of the organization, formed in 1928 to raise funds for a high school.

Henderson, who is also a former borough treasurer and secretary of the association, waived a preliminary hearing and was committed to jail in default of $10,000 bond.

Growers Threaten To Omit '44 Crop

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP)—Two hundred and seventy-five Lancaster county tobacco growers—many owning the prime acres of Pennsylvania—declare they will not plant crops next spring unless their dispute over ceiling prices for the 1943 crop is settled by the Office of Price Administration and the prices for 1944 tobacco set.
